

Current Supply Model

Global Foods Distribution Center currently sources institutional bamboo toilet tissue through overseas manufacturing partners and supports domestic distribution for institutional fulfillment.

Detroit Manufacturing Expansion

A core part of our expansion strategy is establishing domestic manufacturing capacity in Detroit to:

- Reduce lead times
- Stabilize supply chains
- Support large-volume institutional demand
- Improve fulfillment reliability

By developing local production infrastructure, we aim to position Detroit as a hub for sustainable paper goods manufacturing serving national and international institutional buyers.

Supply Chain Stability

- Overseas production for initial scale
- Domestic distribution for institutional fulfillment
- Detroit manufacturing expansion for long-term capacity
- Volume-based production planning

Tree-free bamboo fiber provides supply stability and reduced environmental impact without performance trade-offs.
